In addition to offering some fantastic watercraft cruising experiences, Blue Adventures is also able to offer race training clinics. With six World Titles under her belt and vast experience of both ski and runabout racing, Karine is more than adequately qualified to!

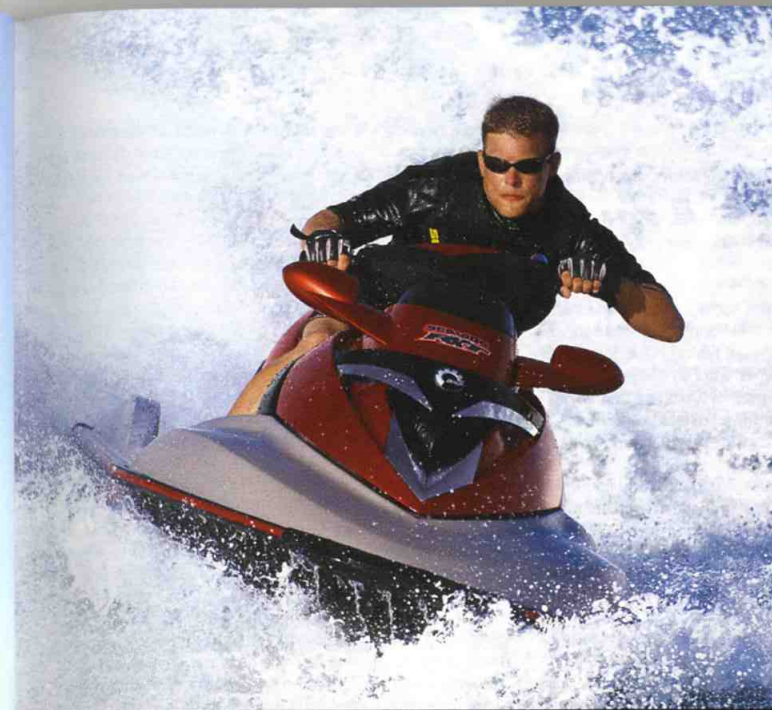

So, after the family has enjoyed a day or more exploring the Florida coast, why not book in for a day's tuition and learn to bend a ski around the bouys like a Pro? Whether you are a beginner, experienced racer or world champion, whether you ride runabout or ski, Blue Adventures will improve your riding. The value of a day's one-on-one coaching should never be underestimated.

For the purposes of this article JS&PW enlisted the help of two young ladies from the UK, who happened to be in Florida and wanted to brush up on their racing techniques. Vicky Molyneux-Beale is a multi UK Ladies Champion and won the Ladies Novice Ski World Title in 2004. Anya Richardson is a racing rookie who will be entering the Junior class in the winter Series and competes in her first race at the end of January.

By attempting to coach two riders, at opposing ends of the racing spectrum, one would have expected the tutor to have her hands full. However, the patience and organised structure with which Karine approaches her coaching clinics became immediately obvious.

From the moment the girls arrived the atmosphere was fun and relaxed, but at the same time goals were set and Karine set to work ensuring they achieved what they wanted out of the day.

There can be no better way of gauging how the day really went than hearing it first hand. So sit back and enjoy the rest of the article as Anya and Vicky share their experiences and racing tips they picked up.
